

Same patients, same care, same outcomes — different records

The paired null comparison changes recording while holding clinical reality constant.